NEW GOODS JUST RECEIVED.

P. W. BRL'WNING, MERCHANT TAILOR, spectfully inform his customers and the public generally, that he has just received New Fall and Winter Goods, in great variety. Such as Cloths, Cassimeres, and Vestings, of the lafest importation, and is prepared to have them made up at the shortest notice, in the most fashionable man ner, and at low rates of prices.

Having made arrangements to go into the "Ready-made Clothing business" extensively this senson, he feels confident that he can offer to those wishing to purchase a stock of Cothing, not inferior to any in this city, and not made up at the north, as is usually the case with work sold here; but cut in his own establishment, and made by our own needy citizens in this dull season, at low rates of prices. He is enabled, therefore, to compete with northern work in point of prices; and as to quality and style, he will leave for those who favor him with a call to judge.

He can sell whole suits, Coat, Pants, and Vest, at the following low rates:

Champaigne, under the same name and style as originally introduced into this market, now nearly thirty years ago, they being sole proprietors of all the identical vineyards, cellars, &c., which the founders and originators of this celebrated brand had owned.

Such being the fact, we need not dwell upon the superior quality of their Wines, the reputation of the same among the American public being already identified with unsurpassed excellence.

We beg particularly to notice that their brand still bears the same name of Heidsieck & Co., in full, by which it first became so favorably known, being thereby easily distinguished from other similar marks which have since appeared.

BE it known that I, the subscriber an apparatus for the destructive distillation wood, and the making therefrom of tar or pit competent persons the invention of an appartus recently patented by W. D. Porfer cannot be used by him or any other person without infringing my said patent. And, further, that what is patented by said Porter rightfully belongs to me, as I expect to prove ere long before the United States Patent Office; and, further, that the use of said Porter's invention involves also a process which I am now claiming before the United States Patent Office, and which has been adjudged to be patentable to the first inventior thereof, and which said W. D. Porter has formally disclaimed, as appears upon the public records of said office, or which an official copy is hereto annexed, and also a copy of his claims.

In the National Intelligencer of the 25th instant Mr. Porter announces that he has secured by patent the "exclusive right to making gas from wood," and threatens prosecution to all parties infringing his patent. I sak how this statement comports with the fart of my patent of December, 1851, and how far the threat can intimidate under such circumstances? Mr. Porter's claim is based upon a movable perforated diaphragm, and was so understood by the Patent Office that his claim was at first refused as interfering with a prior patent to Robert Foulis, of Canada, for an equivalent contrivance. This claim, as given below, and in which the perforated diaphragm is the saving clause, is what Mr. Porter calls securing the "exclusive right to making gas from wood." The statement carries absurdity on its front, and is a libel on the good sense of the Patent Office. If such a claim or right had been granted, it would forbid every coal-kiln and charcoal manufactory in the country.

The following copies of correspondence and extracts from the records of the Patent Office will show the true state of the case:

OF DEMOCRACY IN THE UNITED STATES. By the Author of the Republic of the United States, &c.

THIS important work is now in press, the first volume of which will be issued early in the autumn of 1854.

The publication of this work will be continued by the subscribers; and in due time they will publish in the several States a complete list of agents, who will be prepared to furnish copies promptly in every part of the Union.

That the author may have ample time to prepare his work according to his views of completeness; that the publishers may be enabled to issue the numbers with promptness and at stated periods, thereby protecting the interest of their agents, the following arrangement is announced in the full confidence that it will prove acceptable to all, viz. To stereotype the next six numbers, making ten in all, thus completing the first volume before any more are published.

The numbers will then be issued monthly, without interruption, to the end. Those who prefer the volume bound will be accommodated without extra charge for binding; and the numbers already published, from one to four, will be taken in part pay, if not injured, at their full cost to subscribers. In announcing this unavoidable delay for a few months, the publishers are not unmindful of the earnest desire of many speedily to possess the work. The necessity of accommodating the author, whose labors are incessant, will appear obvious to all without particular explanation.

A LEXANDRIA BOARDING-SCHOOL.

A The Thirty-first Annual Session of this Institution will commence on the 2d of the 10th month, (October.) Besides the ordinary branches of an English education, and the Latin, Greek, French, and Spanish languages, there are taught the various branches of Natural Science, and a complete and thorough course of Mathematics, pure and mixed. The Institution is supplied with a good library, a large collection of minerals and geological specimens, an extensive philosophical and chemical apparatus, an astronomical observatory, with a good telescope, transit instrument, Troughton's circle, &c.; a meteorological observatory, and a chemical laboratory, in which the advanced students are exercised in various chemi; cal manipulations and the analysis of minerals, soils, &c., and every known facility for the advancement of the students in the different departments of study.

The number of students is limited to about sixty; and in order to secure precision in their various studies, and to prevent loss of time from want of necessary assistance, first experienced teachers, (including the subscribers,) three of whom are graduates of Yale College, reside in the family with the students, and give to them their personal attention and aid, not only during the hours specially devoted to study, but at all other times when needed. In addition to classes at stated periods.

A full course of Lectures on Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Astronomy, Geology, Vegetable Physiology, and Agricultural Chemistry is delivered to all the students during each term.

Circulars containing further information can be obtained by spplying to one of the subscribers.
